

TREATY ACTION CERTAIN SOON AS SENATE ADOPTS CLOTURE

Without Roll Call Four Majority Reservations Are Quickly Adopted—Congress Must Authorize Mandates.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 15.—By a vote of 78 to 16 the senate today adopted the cloture rule for debate on the peace treaty.

Adoption of the cloture rule by the senate will mean the speeding up of the peace treaty and means an early vote on the final ratification of that document by the senate. The debate from now on should be limited to hardly more than a week.

The cloture rule became effective immediately upon its adoption. The effect of the rule was manifested shortly after its adoption, when the senate without a roll call adopted the four majority reservations and reached the fifth one.

There were indications that all of the majority reservations remaining could be disposed of before the end of the day and the majority resolution of ratification taken up.

The fourth reservation adopted provides that no mandate for any nation or people shall be accepted by the United States under the treaty except when expressly authorized by congress.

The fifth reservation provides that the United States reserves to itself exclusively jurisdiction over all domestic and political questions relating wholly or in part to its internal affairs, including tariff and labor.

It also stipulates that these and all other domestic questions are solidly within the jurisdiction of the United States and "are not under this treaty to be submitted in any way to either arbitration or to the consideration of the council or the assembly of the league of nations, or any agency thereof or to the decision or recommendation of any other power."

Clubwomen Meet at Utica in 1920

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Utica, Nov. 15.—Utica will entertain next year's convention of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs. The twenty-fifth annual convention here this week came to a close Friday noon with the installation of officers. Before adjournment the convention went on record through resolutions as favoring the repeal of the Lockwood transportation act and the Sammis elevator law which resist the employment of women during night hours. Another resolution called upon Senators Calder and Wadsworth to vote for and influence the ratification of the peace treaty at the earliest possible moment.

Officers were elected as follows: Directors, Mrs. Sidney J. Kelly, fifth district; Mrs. Thomas B. Kattell of Binghamton, sixth district; Mrs. Sherman Clarke, seventh district; Mrs. William H. Robbins, eighth district; Miss Lucile F. Vance, ninth district; district chairman, Mrs. Austin Norman, Palmer, first district; Mrs. R. Edson Doolittle, Brooklyn, second district; Mrs. A. J. Among the delegates to the national convention at Des Moines, Iowa, next June, are Mrs. Asa Wynkoop and Mrs. A. Beadley of Albany. Mrs. Fred Bidwell and Mrs. Henry J. Spornberg of Albany, alternates.

Hollyhock Gardeners at Rondout Church Turkey Dinner and Entertainment.

The efficient and charming "head gardeners" in the hollyhock garden, this turkey dinner, plus a supper, plus historic entertainment to be held at the Rondout Presbyterian Church, November 18 and 19, are the following ladies: In the garden plot where the fancy articles bloom, Miss Maggie Deudner and Miss Mary McCullough are in charge. The sweet-smelling, otherwise candid, garden spots is in charge of Mrs. Harry Smith, and Mrs. M. R. Coutant.

Aprons blossom with the hollyhocks under the care of Mrs. William McCullough and Mrs. John Rowland, while the "common garden variety," known as "domestic articles," will be supervised by Mrs. P. A. Canfield and Mrs. Milton G. Blincoe.

Of course in this fair garden there will be a fish pond, which will be presided over by Mrs. Grace Terwilliger.

Many families will doubtless "take tea" at the chapel of the church Wednesday evening. As for the entertainment that evening, it is to be the emphatically American in fashion, though it is hardly thought that the constitution of these United States will be read, more likely some of the old time recitations and songs.

The total number of miles planned for construction is 725.50 of which 527.25 will be of reinforced concrete, in keeping with the policy of Commissioner Greene to build only permanent roads which will last from twenty-five years to fifty years under the heaviest traffic and at a less cost of maintenance than other types of road.

West Park Reception.

Celebration for Soldiers and Sailors Armistice Day.

West Park, Nov. 14.—In spite of the inclement weather of Armistice Day the reception for soldiers and sailors at the Baptist Church was largely attended. The church was decorated with banyans and chrysanthemums. The people of the community provided a fine supper. Every soldier received two complimentary tickets and others paid 25 cents for the supper. The pastor, Rev. J. B. Simmons made a short address to the soldiers and the service flag was demonstrated.

A program of vocal and instrumental music was carried on while the supper was being served. An interesting collection of war relics was furnished by some of the soldiers. The occasion was wholly enjoyable because there were no cold stars on our service flag.

STATE INCOME TAX BLANKS READY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Blanks for persons who pay $1,000 or more during this year for salaries, commissions and interest, which must be filed in the state comptroller's office between January 1 and March 15, next, under the personal income tax law, are ready for distribution. Comptroller Travis announced today. Where rent is paid to a landlord, the comptroller explained, this must be reported, but not when paid to an agent.

No blank is to be filled out for dividends interest coupons payable to bearer or bills paid for merchandise, telegrams, freight, storage and similar charges; nor is one needed where checks are sent to non-residents for pensions, bank deposits or bond interest.

As the law mainly concerns individuals, where payments are made to corporations or partnerships, the comptroller does not ask for any statement. This is also true in the case of fees given for professional services except where they are annual or fixed retainers.

DIDN'T GET RED CROSS EMBLEMS

Kingston, N. Y., Nov. 13, 1919.
Editor, Freeman:

Will you kindly print the following in regards to Red Cross campaign:

The point I would like to know is this: I read about every night, to show your Red Cross in the window if you have joined, so canvassers, in fact anybody will know you have joined.

Would be pleased to know how one could get these emblems for windows, if they are not given to you when you join.

I am only one out of a factory that joined 100 per cent and neither I, nor any one else that I know of received a Red Cross emblem, in fact there were some that did not even get a button.

Perhaps you can word this to better advantage but you can get my meaning.

Yours truly,

MOHONK TO OPEN A WINTER SCHOOL

New Project, a Long Step Toward Making Famous Resort an All-The-Year Affair, Will Bring Future Men of Affairs to This Region.

Lake Mohonk, that unique resort known all over the world and that has brought more distinguished visitors to Ulster county during its half century of existence than would otherwise have come in a thousand years, is gradually extending the length of its season, closing this year on Armistice Day, the latest it has ever been open, has taken a long step toward becoming an all-the-year resort by arranging to open a winter school in January, 1920. This means extending this season in which local labor is employed and in which Mohonk furnishes a market for a large amount of produce, it will bring to this region boys who are to be leading men of the country in the near future. The announcement in the Lake Mohonk Weekly Bulletin follows.

Tuesday, November 11th, brings to a close Mohonk's fifteenth, longest, biggest season. If it has brought to the thousands of guests satisfaction comparable to that experienced by Mohonk itself, we may emphatically add that it was the best season. A few short months—then May with its renewal of Mohonk associations and a bright auspicious beginning of a second half-century.

Just fifty years ago a New England schoolmaster purchased the nucleus of Mohonk and assumed an indebtedness of $14,000, which later was paid by the proceeds of school teaching. The following spring Mohonk's first company of guests was composed largely of educators. As the years rolled on, Mohonk's founder changed the scene of his work from the Friends School (now the Moses Brown School) in Providence to Mohonk, and soon he summoned a brother from the faculty of the Penn Charter School of Philadelphia to assist in Mohonk's development. Like the founder, his brother, Daniel Smiley, has clung to educational ideals, and Mohonk's management has for years been modified and colored by active trusteeship in a state institution of learning and in two colleges, including that great moulder of intellect, Vassar.

Until 1917 when interrupted by war conditions, for thirty years and more no Mohonk season passed without the assembling here of one or two conferences, which a distinguished publicist has called "world-wide educational institutions." These have been attended by many of the country's leaders in intellectual lines, and are soon to be resumed after the wartime lapse.

What finer historical background for a true school? Not a summer resort merely adding a school as it might a garage or a carpenter shop, but rather the natural transformation of inborn and inbred tendencies and ambitions into a definitely organized institution for direct transmission of the finer ideals.

And what finer natural setting for a school than Mohonk, only ninety miles from New York city and yet all the isolation afforded by a highly developed, largely self-sustaining institution, located in a private estate of more than eight square miles, with the estate itself removed from towns and stretching along a lake-crowned mountain ridge with unsuspected possibilities in the way of winter sports?

Yes, it will be a real school in the best sense of the word—not taking the place of any part of the present Mohonk establishment, but with its own independent plant deriving from and imparting to the present Mohonk a great and mutual benefit and uplift.

Again, what more fitting than the starting of the school as the first act of the first year of Mohonk's second half-century?

For the Mohonk school will open in January, 1920, using for its initial half year and pending the erection of its own buildings, a portion of the present Mohonk house.

It will start as a boarding school for boys between the age of ten and college age. The school year will consist of thirty-three weeks, and the instruction will include ample emphasis on developing in the boys character, initiative and all-round usefulness.

The faculty, headed by Jerome F. Kilder, for years in charge of Awoslee Camp, will include a physician and a physical director. Not only will the boys be assured of care of their health but full advantage of the unusual opportunities afforded by Mohonk for horseback riding and outdoor sports in general.

The school will have no direct relation to the house (sometimes inaccurately called "the hotel"), but eventually will have its own full provision for entertaining visiting parents and friends. But from the very start parents may always be assured of comfortable quarters during visits to their boys.

Pending publication of a catalogue now in preparation, inquiries may be addressed to The Mohonk School, Mohonk Lake, N. Y.

COAL OPERATORS REFUSE TO NEGOTIATE NATIONAL WAGE SCALE

Secretary Wilson's Proposal Turned Down and Lewis Hurls Charges of Bad Faith in Stormy Session That Ensues.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The first rift in the coal conference came today.

The operators flatly refused to accept Secretary of Labor Wilson's proposal that the conference negotiate a national wage scale.

F. W. Jenkins, acting as spokesman for the operators, declared that they would not agree to a single wage scale for all fields.

The action of the operators threw the conference into an uproar instantly. John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers, leaped to his feet, and in fiery sentences, hurled charges of bad faith at the operators.

JIMMY HERON COMING AGAIN

This Time The Public Will Have An Opportunity To Hear The Famous Scotch Humorist Who Preaches Through Laughter.

"Jimmy" Heron, poet, elocutionist, story teller and Scotch dialect entertainer, who made such a hit at a Rotary Club luncheon several months ago that all who heard him are still talking about it, will appear in the Fair Street Reformed Church next Friday evening under the auspices of the Men's Bible Class of that church. If he gets away without reciting his "To a Cootie" it will only be because his audience is suddenly stricken with something that deprives them of their voices. What else will be on the program nobody knows, except that there will be two new original recitations, "Toddy in Scotch," a rendition of the life and fights of Theodore Roosevelt in Scotch dialect, and "Let's Go," a spirited answer to the "Red" menace. Now that the war is won, You've welcomed home your fighting son.

You're ready for a little fun, Humor or wit, So laugh and sing, be always gay, And strive to brighten every day; You'll find that humor has a way To benefit.

That is Jim Heron's gospel—Rotarian Jim Heron of the New York Rotary Club, poet, humorist, philosopher and good fellow. His stories of the life of the boys over there, as told with the real burr-r of the life, are inimitable, which is generally the case when a Scotchman unbuckles his package of verse and stories. His fund of stories is inexhaustible, and his verse poems have made history during the years of stress.

When New York called upon him to compose a message of greeting to his fellow Scot, Sir Harry Lauder, it knew he would respond in a true Rotarian way. It hardly expected he would compose a classic, but he did it. His introduction of Harry made him look to his laurels. New York was proud of him.

His patriotic recitations are delivered with that rare feeling so delightful to any audience by the very sincerity with which they are given, his deep voice and ringing enthusiasm dispelling every suggestion of pathos or maudlin sentiment. In speaking of the deeds of the United States' men of men.

Heron is not a clown. Neither is he a preacher. But he has a way of being funny and serious at the same time that entertains for the moment and still leaves sober thoughts that stick in the mind for a long time. The proceeds of this entertainment will go to charity.

The Road—In New Overland 4 on Three-Point Cantilever Springs

YOU expect a bad road to ride as it looks. It did, until the introduction of the Overland 4 Springbase.

Overland 4 does not change the road, but it does change the manner in which you can ride on it. It gives you comfort instead of discomfort. It gives you a smooth, sailing sensation instead of bouncing and swaying.

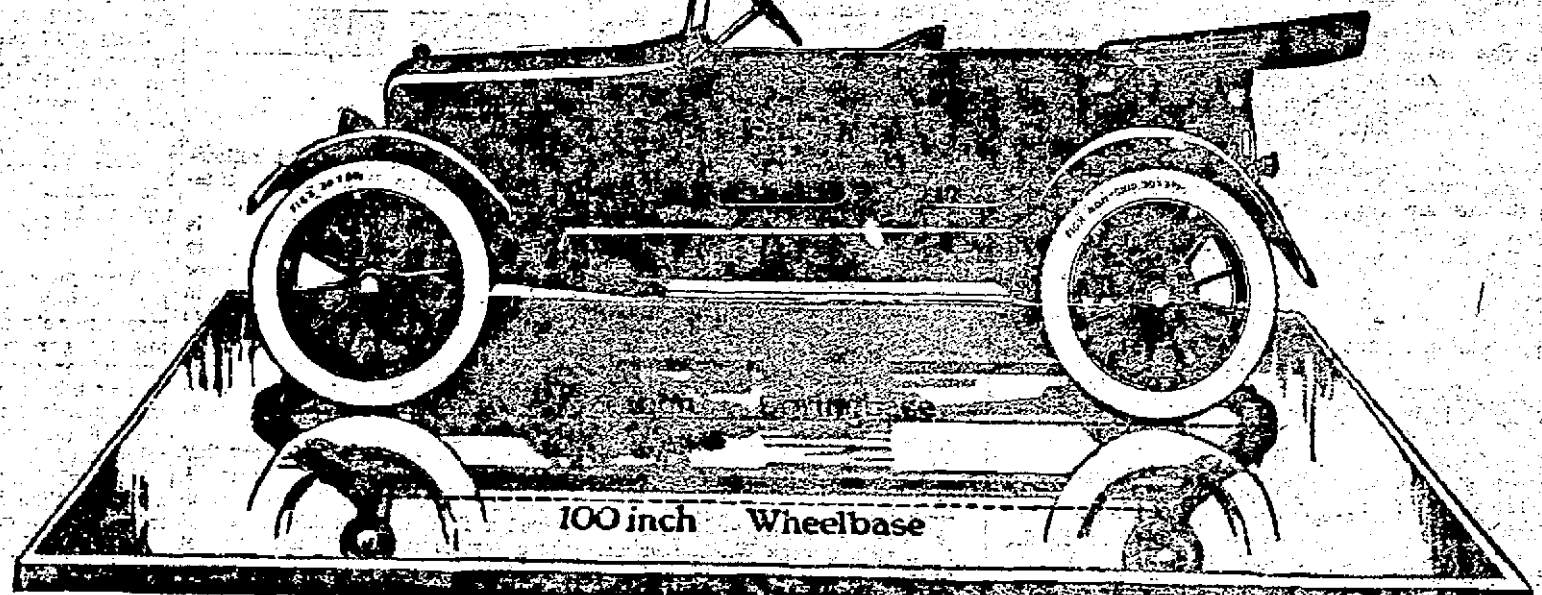

The Diagonal attachment of Three-Point Cantilever Springs at the ends of a 130-inch Springbase gives long wheelbase road steadiness. Yet Overland 4 retains all the advantages—lightness, economy, and ease of handling, of 100-inch wheelbase.

This means an altogether new standard of riding comfort, a noteworthy reduction in the wear and tear which lessens the efficiency of a car. The new springs give longer life to every part and thus minimize upkeep and replacement costs.

Tires wear longer because cushioned against hammering blows. Light weight means marked economy in gas, oil and running expense.

Overland 4's equipment is complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting to Demountable Rims.

Come in and see this remarkable car. Ask for booklet. Overland 4 Touring, $845; Roadster, $845; Coupe, $1325; Sedan, $1375. Prices f. o. b. Toledo.

Patriotism.

Countess's family an official. There is such a spirit of patriotism, and the fact that the family is so patriotic and it is a development of that patriotism which springs from moral grounds. Our bourgeoisie, when directed to our countrymen at large, commences patriotism and the spirit of nationality is then confined to our relations with our countrymen. William Jay.

Origin of Petroleum a Mystery.

Geologists disagree as to the origin of the so-called "natural oil," or petroleum. The subject of those who have written on the subject appear to believe that the oil is of animal and vegetable origin. It is conjectured to be mainly the fat of fishes, reptiles and animals that lived and died ages ago. Following plants or seeds may have contributed to the total supply. The subject is wrapped in mystery.

Air Mail Delivered at Sea.

The first aerial mail delivery to a ship at sea was accomplished August 14, 1919, when an airplane flying boat dropped a sack of European mail on the deck of the White Star liner "Adriatic" leaving New York. The expedition was an official test undertaken at the request of the post office department and may be put into general operation. The flying boat overtook the "Adriatic" just as she was passing out of the Audubon channel. After circling around the liner a few times, the pilot, C. J. Zimmerman, came down to within 50 feet of the ship's mast and dropped the mail bag. Some 200 passengers crowded the promenade deck of the boat and watched the excitement. Their cheers echoed down the bay as the bag was expertly hauled aboard. —Mekel's Weekly.

Wiser Than Solomon.

Harriet and Evelyn were twins. On their fifth birthday their father brought them home a small dog, telling them they would own it together. On being petted the dog roared, but finally ceased its tail. Noting this Evelyn exclaimed: "Harriet can have the dog and I'll take the tail—it's the most friendly part."

TRAINED TEACHERS.

The trained teachers of this country ought to be grateful to Governor Coolidge for bringing to light in connection with the subject of underpaid educators the following passage from Roger Ascham's "Scholemaster," written about 1565: "It is a pity that commonly more care is had, yea, and that among very wise men, to find out rather a cunning man for their horse than a cunning man for their children." For to the one, they will gladly give a stipend of 200 crowns a year and are loath to offer to the other 200 shillings. God that sitteth in heaven laugheth their choice to scorn and rewardeth their liberality as it should. For he suffereth them to have tame and well ordered horses, but wild and unfortunate children, and therefore in the end they find more pleasure in their horse than in their children."

Investigation shows that this wise Roger Ascham was the tutor of the Princess (afterward Queen) Elizabeth and that he left a record testifying to his royal pupil's "wisdom and industry." He praises her handwriting and notes: "She talks French and Italian as well as English; she has often talked to me readily and well in Latin and moderately so in Greek. She read with me almost all Cicero and a great part of Titus Livius. She used to give the mornings to the Greek Testament and afterward read orations of Isocrates. To these I added," etc., etc. How many young women acquiring the higher education now can rival the Princess Elizabeth at 17, and how many professors are as thoroughly equipped for instruction as Roger Ascham?

In congratulating Governor Coolidge upon his election as a "victory for law and order," President Wilson declared that on such an issue, Americans stand together. Now we should like to know where Wilson stood during the campaign: where Daniels, Baker, Palmer, Cummings and McAdoo stood. If they were not on the side of Coolidge, they were not on the side of law and order, according to Mr. Wilson, and, therefore were not good Americans. Did the Democratic National Committee lend aid and comfort to Mr. Long, the Democratic candidate, and, if not why did it not get on the side of law and order? Since we are in the questioning line, we might inquire whether President Wilson would have expressed regret if the Democratic candidate had won in Massachusetts against the candidate who stood for law and order.

To soften the jolt which the Democratic party received in the recent State elections, the Washington Times, a Wilson organ, played up in its headlines the fact that Mississippi went "Democratic by big majority." The Times ignored the fact that the Democratic candidate, Lee M. Russell, Governor-elect, was backed for nomination and election by ex-Senator Vardaman, of Mississippi, who was defeated in 1918 by the interference of President Wilson in the Mississippi election that year. Vardaman was hostile to the league of nations and he condemned Wilson despotism, so Wilson split the party and Pat Harrison, an Administration follower, was elected over Vardaman. This year Mississippi repudiated both the league and Mr. Wilson by nominating Russell for Governor over a pro-league candidate, and of course nomination in Mississippi is equivalent to election. John Sharp Williams, bitter of the Irish and advocate of internationalism, got his answer from his home state in no uncertain terms, but his memory isn't what it used to be, poor fellow. Mississippi vindicated Vardaman.

The State Department informed Senator Wadsworth, on November 4, 1919, that the Russian Bolsheviks "have availed themselves of every opportunity to initiate in the United States a propaganda aimed at bringing about the forcible overthrow of our present form of government." The State Department evidently considered that something new and important. To most people the fact had been known many months, but, what was more important, the Bolshevik propaganda had been going on in this country with the aid of funds provided by others than Russians, and independent of Russian Bolshevism, and without any effective interference from the administration at Washington. In fact, any one who will read the speech delivered in the Senate by Senator Polandexter on August 11, 1919, will be convinced that Bolshevism has had a lot of encouragement from the Wilson administration.

MAY NOW BUY GOV'T STEEL

Acquired For War Purposes—Anything From a Wire Nail To A Modern Hotel May Be Bought From Shipping Board.

The present shortage of steel, due to the steel strike and other causes, will be relieved to a considerable extent by the immediate placing on the market of the great stock of steel gathered during the war for shipbuilding purposes by the United States Government, through the U. S. Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation.

This steel will be available in all sorts of forms. It can be bought in bars, plates and sheets; or as in some cases designed and completely fabricated as a warehouse, a smith shop, a plate and angle shop, or an iron foundry.

There is a big assortment of tools, tools and machinery at Baltimore, where the contents of what is known as Canton Warehouse No. 7 have already been placed on sale. This lot includes marine and ship chandlery, dock machinery and equipment, electrical equipment, pipe valves and fittings, handling devices, hand tools, metals, boiler fittings and accessories. Besides the steel the Emergency Fleet Corporation is offering for sale a complete hotel development at 94th and Tintinam avenues, Philadelphia. It was erected there in 1918 to care for Hog Island employees. It consists of sixteen buildings each containing 125 rooms, besides which there will be found four main dining rooms, a general office building, warehouse, laundry, and heating plant. A spacious grandstand overlooks an athletic field, which is supplemented by an amusement hall, containing barber shop, moving picture outfit, pool-room and other forms of amusement.

WIN MY CHUM WEEK
Will End With Epworth League Meeting Sunday.

In Dr. G. W. Grinton's sermon Friday night there was a fitting close to the week night meetings of the Win My Chum Week. The meetings have been well attended and every one that has been to any of these meetings has been spiritually benefited. Sunday night at the Epworth League service, "Win My Chum Week" will officially close with Mrs. S. P. Hines and Evelyn Wright as leaders. Mrs. Hines intends to try and sum up on all of the meetings that have been held this week. Miss Elinor Winchell will render a solo at this service. All are welcome.

UNION CENTER

Union Center, Nov. 14.—The Loyal Workers will hold a dime social at the chapel on Friday evening, November 21. A cordial invitation is extended to every one to attend and enjoy themselves.

Mr. Gullian and family and Mrs. Kellison and family who have been spending the summer at their homes on "The Heights" have returned to their city homes for the winter.

Miss Bessie House has been soliciting subscriptions for the Red Cross.

Mrs. John Herring is visiting relatives in Brooklyn and New Jersey.

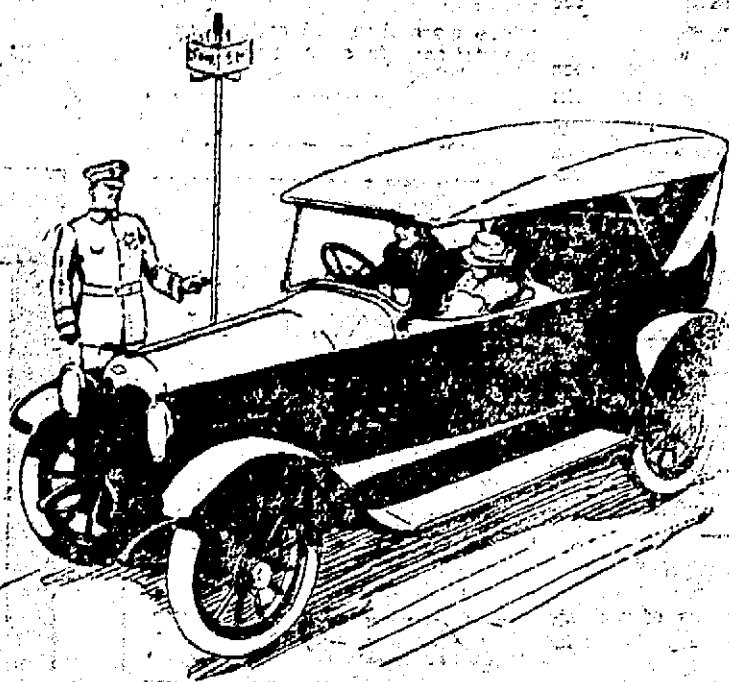

The Loyal Workers Sunday school class held a very interesting meeting at the home of Miss Harriet Eckert on Tuesday evening. After the business session some very amusing songs were sung by the young men and an informal debate was held on the subject, "Resolved: that it is just as wrong to go auto riding on Sunday for pleasure as it is to go hunting."

Mr. Herring, teacher, was leader on the negative side and Raymond Constant, president, led the affirmative side. Mr. Herring's side were declared winners. Refreshments were served by the hostess and every one was glad to have been there. This class is always ready to welcome new members and if you don't believe a Sunday School class can have a good time, come to one of our meetings.

99 for Bannerman.

Jailer Robert Evers and Frederick L. Anderson started last evening for Clinton prison at Bannerman with Robert McDonald and Louis Schwen, who were sentenced to serve indeterminate terms there by Judge Fowler in county court Wednesday on their plea of guilty for the slaying of a teenage car, the property of George Goldth.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

The average man today does not need to be convinced that a good automobile is a sound investment in a practical utility. He readily recognizes that the dividends are in time saved, work accomplished, energy conserved and health promoted.

The size of these dividends depends on the car and its make. Paige cars offer a most attractive investment because in no price field is there a more generous measure of quality, a greater assurance of dependable service.

Kingstonian Boilers

Find Out About This Boiler Before You Decide

Go a little slow. The wrong boiler is a horrible thing to have in your cellar. It makes so many uncomfortable. It may even provoke profanity. One thing it certainly does do, and that is: digs into your pocket book to keep it fed up on the coal it needs. Now, it's easy enough to claim that this Kingstonian Boiler burns less coal than any other. But to prove it, is quite another thing. It's this very quite another thing that we want the chance to prove to you. Will you give us that chance.

The presentation of decorations awarded by France to these Y. M. C. A. men for courage under fire will form an interesting ceremony before the 5,000 delegates at the Fortieth International Convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of America at Detroit November 19-23. The courage shown by the "Y" worker is typified by the citation accompanying Mr. Lyle's Croix de Guerre which tells how, after the French army retreated from Missy-sur-Aisne, he returned to the village to save several French children and was wounded by shrapnel and taken prisoner. Mr. Shreve's citation reads: "He carried wounded through an area violently shelled, saving numerous lives by his brilliant conduct."

Malay Archipelago.
When you leave the east coast of Africa, you strike across the Indian ocean, following the equator, which cuts Sumatra and Borneo in halves. It is in the forests of those great islands that our somewhat less than relatives, the orang-outangs, reside. All of the Malay archipelago (which properly includes the Philippines) might be described as a partly submerged continent, and no great amount of geological uplift would be required to convert it into a single land mass nearly as big as Australia.

City of Paris awarded Croix de Guerre

Georges Clemenceau, Premier of France, recently presented the City of Paris with the Croix de Guerre (French War Cross). A giant war cross was erected on the tower of the Paris City Hall in electric lights. On the occasion of the official lighting of the great cross thousands of Parisians thronged the streets and the entire city took on a holiday aspect.

No Longer Clerk.
I am no longer a clerk to the firm of, etc. I am retired leisure. I am to be met with in trim gardens. I am already come to be known by my casual face and careless costume, pre-announcing at no fixed hour and with any settled purpose. I walk about, not to and from. They tell me a certain can-can-diggle air that has been buried so long with my other good parts has begun to show forth in my person. I presently grow into gentility.—Charles Lamb.

The Loving Cup.
The origin of the loving cup is hazy. Some investigators have asserted that its beginning was the wassail bowl, belonging to festivities attending the Christmas eve, and that on the advent of Christianity the custom of wassailing assumed a religious aspect. The monks called the wassail bowl the "potium caritatis" (loving cup). The ceremony of drinking from one cup and passing it around was observed at the Jewish annual supper and an other notable occasion.

"Y" AUXILIARY MET FRIDAY

The report of the financial outcome of the recent sale given by the members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. was one of the features of the Auxiliary meeting at the "Y" on Friday afternoon. Another feature was the exceptionally interesting address given by Secretary Safford and a third was the singing by Mrs. Dunbar, making the afternoon of exceptional interest with a letter from Mrs. Thornberry to the Auxiliary as one of the happiest events.

During the business session, the treasurer stated that the recent sale netted the Auxiliary $209.27, a most gratifying showing.

New members of the Auxiliary were reported, as follows: Mrs. Potter, Port Ewen; Mrs. J. W. Murray, Mrs. M. F. Safford, Mrs. E. F. Morris, Mrs. Katherine Van Buren, Mrs. William Rutledge.

Samuel Watts addressed the women relative to the survey soon to be taken of Ulster county, by the Ulster County Bible Society, and asked the members of the Auxiliary to do the canvassing for this, survey in the fifth ward. It was unanimously voted by the ladies to comply with Mr. Watts' request and Mrs. J. C. Snyder was appointed chairman.

The following appreciative letter of thanks for the fountain pen sent her by former Auxiliary associates was read from Mrs. Thornberry: Women's Auxiliary, Kingston Y. M. C. A.

Dear Friends,— It is very difficult for me to express to you my great appreciation of love and kind thoughts revealed in your gift of the beautiful fountain pen and the letter which accompanied it.

I have missed my Kingston friends sorely these past weeks for I am still a stranger here. Then to have the token of their thoughtfulness come just when the days are so lonely, meant more to me than I can ever tell you. In fact, being a woman I felt I had a perfect right to sit down and cry it all out.

If in the three years I was with you, I rendered any service, I was more than repaid by the happy comradeship which comes when women forget themselves and labor together for others.

What a blessing it is that we do not have to wait until some future life for our reward, but that our reward comes from joy and peace within; from the consciousness of having done all we could to make some brother or sister a little happier!

So, dear women, as you labor in your noble work for others, giving of your time, your strength, your money, may you ever be blessed with "Not what we give, but what we share."

"For the gift without the giver is bare; Who gives himself with his alms feeds three: Himself, his hungry neighbor and me."

With a heart full of appreciation, I am very sincerely, (Signed) CAROLINE CLEVELAND THORN-BERRY.

Those present were then highly favored by the singing in charming fashion by Mrs. Dunbar of two most pleasing songs, "An Irish Love Song" and "If No One Ever Loves Me." Mrs. Dunbar was accompanied by Mrs. William S. Eltinge.

Mr. Safford's address was particularly interesting in that it touched upon a phase of war activity not before heard about in Kingston, to the writer's knowledge. After paying his tribute to the splendid work which the women of the country do in helping the Y. M. C. A. through their auxiliaries, and especially calling to mind the past efficient helpfulness of the local auxiliary, Mr. Safford told most interestingly of his work in the transport service during the late war, having his assignment on the Lehigh.

But first he told how the Hudson River at Hoboken started early in the war in a very small way in an abandoned saloon, left vacant by the prohibition enactment, grew to the enormous proportions of helpfulness that it did. At the time of the signing of the armistice it had served 2,722,454 service men, and its work is still going on.

Mr. Safford then told of three of the great transport ships, the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific, both of which using oil only as fuel, were doubly speedy because no time was required to stop and coal, and as soon as one ship load was landed they were ready to make the return trip.

Then speaking of the Lehigh, Mr. Safford said he doubted if many people had any adequate idea of the tremendous size of this ocean monster. It is one-fifth of a mile long and has fourteen decks. On one trip made by Mr. Safford there were 14,000 men on board, the crew numbering 2,600 men. It is the only vessel that can make 28 knots an hour, no matter what the weather conditions are. Speaking of the coal situation, Mr. Safford said that the Lehigh burned 900 tons of coal every twenty-four hours. What in days of tourist excursions was the large swimming pool was, for the war service, converted into a huge baggage room.

On the trip when there were 14,000 men on board it took from 40 minutes to 45 minutes to serve them a meal, although the service was cafeteria fashion at top speed.

On board the Lehigh were many men who had the tall, the authorizing of boys on the real machine of science, the purpose of which was to build and use building of character. A fine team was taken out of the boys in St. James's Sunday school with Russell Rogers as coachmaster. The new team will have the backing of the Sunday school through its superintendent, Mr. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, recently were present. After the presentation was complete, Rogers and his team were the order, and then came abundance of refreshments, which were enjoyed by boys and adults. The boys and their friends were most enthusiastic over the prospects of the future.

welfare workers of all the various war relief organizations. One thing which Mr. Safford made special mention of was the lack of reading matter for the men, who would stand in line for four hours, in the hope that some of the limited books out might be returned so they could have something to read. The demand was always greater than the supply.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels was a passenger on one trip as was Secretary of War Baker. Secretary Daniels was particularly friendly with all the boys and told them he did not want them to think of him "secretary" but as "shipmate" Daniels.

All that Mr. Safford told was so full of interest that those present regretted his talk coming so soon to a close.

DAIRYMEN MEET SOON AT GENEVA

Commissioner of Agriculture Charles S. Wilson stated today that one of the subjects which will come up for extended discussion at the 43rd annual meeting of the New York State Dairymen's Association, in Jordan Hall, Geneva, N. Y., November 18th, 19th and 20th, will be the care and use of the milking machine.

Commissioner Wilson pointed out that in view of the scarcity of farm labor, and the fact that many farm laborers are not experienced hand milkers, the milking machine is here to stay, and that there is much need of information on its use.

At the meeting of the association, the question of sanitation and improving the quality of New York state milk will be taken up by George E. Hogue, director of the Dairy Bureau, of the Division of Agriculture, who will also discuss improvement in the quality of New York State cheese.

Dr. Jordan director of the Experiment station, will deliver the address of welcome at the meeting, with a response by Professor H. C. Troy, president of Cornell University. W. E. Dana, of Avon, president of the Council of Farms and Markets, Commissioner Wilson, former Dean H. E. Cook, State School of Agriculture, at Canton, N. Y., Commissioner of Agriculture Frederick Rasmussen, of Pennsylvania, Robert S. Breed, and George A. Smith, of Geneva, N. Y., Dr. W. W. McLaughlin, director of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Professor W. A. Stocking, of Cornell and others will discuss important questions relative to the dairying industry.

H. F. Fairing, of Lowville, and Professor E. E. Savage, of Cornell, will preside at round table discussion. Bradley Fuller, of Utica, will make as his subject "Market Milk," and Harry Stevenson, of Enfield Center, will have as his subject "Keeping the Young Man on the Farm."

HIGH SCHOOL WEEKLY NEWS

Major at Weekly Mass Meeting— Football Fans Sent Victory in Today's Battle With Newburgh Team— New Orchestra Member.

Tuesday morning in High School assembly, Miss Nancy Jenkins rendered a selection entitled "I Am the Spoken Word." This was written for "Better English Week" by Tryon Miller and brought out some very good facts and ideas.

Thursday morning's assembly brought forth something new in the line of a two act play written by a freshman and presented by members of the freshman class. The "children" played their parts in excellent style and proved to be masters of the farce.

Prayer after the regular weekly mass meeting was held in the auditorium. Of course, the Y. M. C. A. jazz orchestra furnished entertaining music, which drew the students to the assemblage. President Schoenfeld was presiding officer and was assisted by Miss Seigen, who led the singing. Prof. Allen took charge of the cheering, which was to get the students in shape for today's game. Mayor Canfield was present and gave a very interesting talk. He expressed his confidence in the players and said that fair play would go much farther toward victory than any foul playing would. He did not say this because the Kingston boys have not been playing fair, but because he wanted them to know that others saw it that way, too.

A new member has been added to the "A B" orchestra. This is "Bill" Murray, our new Leader reporter just arrived from Pennsylvania. He showed unusual skill and ability in his playing of the banjo-mandolin, and is a wonderful addition to the orchestra.

The football team plays the Newburgh High School team on the Athletic field this afternoon. This means another victory for Kingston, because they walked Newburgh on their own field.

St. James's Church Social. An enthusiastic meeting in the auditorium of the Boy Scouts of America was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rose on Clinton avenue Friday night. There was a fine attendance. Chief Executive Melchior gave the talk to the authorizing of boys on the real machine of science, the purpose of which was to build and use building of character. A fine team was taken out of the boys in St. James's Sunday school with Russell Rogers as coachmaster. The new team will have the backing of the Sunday school through its superintendent, Mr. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, recently were present. COLOR DOES NOT PREVENT RESPECT

Negro Born Here 50 Years Ago Feels His Color No Bar to Equal Opportunity—Thinks the Preacher Should Stick to His Job.

Mr. Editor:—Please allow me a little space in your paper to express my opinion and feeling regarding the article that has appeared in your paper signed by the Rev. A. L. Hughes and also the article signed "M. Smith."

I have been a resident of this old Colonial City for over fifty years, in fact was born here, and regret to see at this time such a letter as appeared over the signature of Mr. Hughes. I trust that in this city I will never again read such a letter from the pen of a clergyman or from any other individual calling himself an American.

I am a colored man, and I have been made to feel that this, notwithstanding, I am respected by those who know me. I have always tried to be fair and courteous and respectful to others and to be always faithful and loyal to my employers. And I have never had any cause for complaint because of treatment accorded me because I am colored. On the contrary, I have seen colored men and women given employment and given opportunity, much the same as with white people. I have not seen anything of the prejudice that is so bitterly complained of in this city, and I am inclined to think it does not exist against negroes as a race, even though at times some individual so conducts himself as to cause resentment. In most cases, I would venture to say, that if any feeling against a negro is shown, it is because of the attitude of the individual.

I do hope that it will be fifty years more before any colored man, and especially a colored minister, will write or have printed in a newspaper such a letter as was written by Mr. Hughes. It is serving no good purpose, and it may result in much harm.

Let each of us go on doing our best in the field in which we work, of our sinners and let each of the other of us just do our best to be worthy as American citizens, even though we are not called upon to do jury duty, or even though not anxious to serve as president of the United States.

Sincerely yours, FRANK FULTON, Kingston, Nov. 14, 1919.

DINNER THURSDAY TO BE DIFFERENT

Neighborhood and Friendliness to be Kept at C. of C. Gathering—Travelers' Club and Other Hostess Bodies to be Greeted in Lieu of Outside Oratory.

"I will eat dinner with my friends and neighbors on Thursday, November 20, at 6:30 p. m."

This is the good resolution that the members of the Chamber of Commerce are making in regard to the "different" Chamber of Commerce dinner that is to be held in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Thursday evening next.

Plans are in the charge of Chairman S. M. Watts and a strong dinner committee. One "difference" will be that there will be no special orator of the day or rather of the evening, but members of the Chamber of Commerce will have words of greeting to say to representatives of various groups of men who are interested in Kingston or who have common interests with Kingston and representatives of these groups will have something to say in response.

The members of the Chamber of Commerce will have a chance to meet the officers of the Kattermann & Mitchell Co., and of the Apollo Magnet Company, new additions to our industrial life that mean much to the progress of Kingston.

A matter of very special interest will be the greeting by the Chamber of Commerce of the members of the Travelers' Club. Kingston has become the seat and center of a unique and interesting development in the life of commercial men.

The Travelers' Club is made up of men who like Kingston so well that they have chosen it as a sort of a second home. They are making up their schedules with the purpose of coming to Kingston as much as possible. Many of them are planning to come long distances in order not to miss this dinner.

They are aggressive boosters of Kingston, wherever they go and are constantly on the watch to give to the Chamber of Commerce any information and help that can aid the Chamber in working for Kingston.

Another group of friends and neighbors who have been invited to join the dinner is composed of the directors of the Catskill-Shawangunk Mountain Association. This association is new and is just getting under way. The caliber of the men who are leading in this organization and work; the fact that all sections of the Catskill-Shawangunk region are represented on this board of directors and the broad spirit of mutual support among the different parts of the mountain country are all signs that this Catskill-Shawangunk Association is going very far indeed in forwarding the interests of Ulster, Greene and Delaware counties.

Still more friends and neighbors who plan to attend the dinner will be announced shortly. Altogether it will be a remarkable gathering indicative of the thorough-going way in which not only the people of Kingston but also the people of all this section are joining together to do things and it will show also something of the things that the Kingston Chamber of Commerce and the organizations co-operating with it have been accomplishing within the last few months.

Mrs. Hawksley, the capable manager of the Y. M. C. A. tea room, will serve the dinner at a cost of $1 a plate. Women who are members of the Chamber of Commerce and women of the families of Chamber of Commerce members, are eligible to attend this as all Chamber of Commerce dinners.

The fact that this gathering will be unique and different; that so many of Kingston's friends and well wishers will be on hand and that the key note of the dinner will be friendship and neighborliness are all going to promote a degree of interest that will make this affair stand out even among the successful dinners that the Chamber of Commerce has recently held.

Some of the members of Kingston Post, American Legion, take exception to the action at the armory, Friday evening. They are of the opinion that as there were not over thirty-three present there was not a quorum, contending it is necessary to have at least ten per cent of the members at a meeting to make a quorum. This would be fifty, as Kingston Post has a membership of 500. The members who hold the above opinion also believe that the constitution was violated in passing a resolution favoring the appointment of one of the Legion as a member of the paid fire department.

They say that Section IV, under the caption "Nature," reads as follows: "While requiring that every member of the organization perform his full duty as a citizen according to his own conscience and understanding, the organization shall be absolutely non-partisan and shall not be used for the dissemination of partisan principles or for the promotion of the candidacy of any person seeking public office or preferment."

Edna had company. Colored Girl Found in Newburgh With Infant Rooks.

Edna Ten Broeck, 21 years old, the colored chambermaid at The Kirkland, who was arrested in Newburgh Thursday night, was found in the company of Grant Rooks, also colored of this city. She is in jail awaiting a hearing in police court Monday.

According to the Newburgh News-Observer Albert Wilcox of the Newburgh police, entered the apartment of the colored couple on upper Washington street at 12:22 a. m. Friday, having in his possession a Kingston warrant charging Edna with grand larceny in the second degree.

Later in the day Edna was able to account for about $19. Of this she said she gave Rooks $16 in a theater Thursday and received $5 back. Rooks says $12 was the total amount. The girl said the money she gave Rooks represented all she had left of what she had taken. She never counted the full amount she claimed. Rooks said he didn't know the money was stolen. Rooks is willing to return what he got from Edna who says she has $25 in a New Falls bank and will apply this "on account."

Rooks accompanied Sergeant Hanley and Edna to Kingston voluntarily.
